A New Day Counseling

LAURA L. RYAN, MA, LMFT

This form is provided in order you help you understand several important things about your professional relationship with your therapist and your rights as a client. Please read all of the information carefully. Feel free to ask questions about any item that you may not understand and sign the bottom of this form when you have read all the information.

Confidentiality

What you say to your therapist will be held in strictest confidence. However, you should understand that there are certain circumstances and conditions under which the content of your sessions may no longer be confidential. Below is a list of some, but not all of the circumstances under which your therapist may be ethically and/or legally obligated to disclose information about you. Because circumstances vary from individual to individual, it is impossible to provide a complete list of all possible circumstances under which the content of your sessions may no longer be confidential. Please discuss any concerns you may have about confidentiality with your therapist.

- a) Your therapist is ethically and legally obligated to disclose information given in confidence if there is reason to believe that you may harm yourself or harm someone else.
- b) Your therapist is ethically and legally obligated to disclose information given in confidence if there is reason to believe that you are involved in or have knowledge of child abuse/neglect or abuse/neglect of an elderly or disabled person.

Despite the personal nature of the work that you and your therapist do together, it is important for you to understand that you and your therapist have a professional and not a personal relationship. In order for your therapist to maintain his or her professional objectivity, the interactions between you and she will be limited to scheduled sessions. All clinical content should be discussed in session only and any text or email exchanges with your therapist will be limited to administrative, payment, or scheduling related inquiries. If you are in crisis, you agree to call 911 or report to your local emergency room. Please do not invite your therapist to social gatherings, offer gifts, or ask your therapist to enter into a business relationship or relate to you in any way outside of your scheduled appointments. You will be best served if your relationship with your therapist remains strictly professional and concentrates exclusively on your concerns. If you meet your therapist in public or in a social situation, be aware of her ethical responsibilities and expect a short conversation.

As a client, you have some important responsibilities. Please attend all scheduled appointments and be on time. Please remember that once an appointment is made, your therapist has set time aside for you and it is your responsibility to cancel/reschedule your appointments within 24 hours of your scheduled time. If you fail to cancel or reschedule your appointment within 24 hours, you will be charged the full hourly fee.

I, the client, have read and fully understand the information covered in this form.

Tele-Therapy Consent to Treatment for Clients In Texas

I give consent to Laura L. Ryan, LMFT, license # 201931 A New Day Counseling Services to perform therapeutic services determined to be necessary or advisable for the benefit of my health. I understand that online counseling services include, but are not limited to, consultation and treatment using interactive audio, video, and/or data communications. I understand that online counseling services involve the communication of my medical/mental health information to the above referenced provider. By utilizing services with Laura L. Ryan, LMFT, I certify that I understand that communications via text, email, or any internet communication is not 100% HIPAA compliant and there is risk of breach of HIPAA in any form of electronic communication.

I have the right to withhold or withdraw consent at any time without affecting my right to future care or treatment. I understand that the laws that protect the confidentiality of my medical information also apply to online counseling services. As such, I understand that the information disclosed by me during the course of my therapy is generally confidential. However, there are both mandatory and permissive exceptions to confidentiality, including, but not limited to reporting abuse; expressed threats of violence towards an ascertainable victim; and where I make my mental or emotional state an issue in a legal proceeding.

I understand that the dissemination of any information is under the same HIPAA standards as traditional therapy. Although rare, I understand that there are risks to internet based services including, not limited to, the possibility, despite reasonable efforts on the part of the Platform and/or Therapist, that the transmission of my medical information could be disrupted or distorted by technical failures, the transmission of my medical information could be interrupted by unauthorized persons, and/or the electronic storage of my medical information could be accessed by unauthorized persons.

I am aware that I agree that the location of the therapy is in Texas, where my licensed therapist is located, even when I am communicating with my therapist via digital or video platforms. I agree that my therapy is under the licensing rules and laws of the state of Texas. By participating in online therapy services I am aware of potential benefits and risks. Some benefits may include improved access to services and the convenience of not having to travel to my therapy appointments. Although risks are rare, I am aware there are possible risks which include the possibility of delay in response from my therapist due to technical failures or unforeseen events, and that I may not be able to respond to my therapist due to my own technology failures or unforeseen events. I am aware that all clinical content will be discussed during session only. I am not to text or email my therapist clinical content under any circumstance.

I understand that it is my responsibility to attend all scheduled tele-therapy appointments and be on time. I understand that once an appointment is made, my therapist has set time aside for me and it is my responsibility to cancel/reschedule your appointments within 24 hours of your scheduled time. If I fail to cancel or reschedule your appointment within 24 hours, I understand that I will be charged the full hourly fee. I understand that my therapist may not be able to provide certain services to me and if my therapist believes I need additional or other services, they may refer me to another specialist or type of care, such as seeing a medical doctor for further evaluation and treatment. Informed consent continues throughout the course of therapy and my therapist will continue to talk with me about risks, benefits or educate me on the process of therapy as we go along.

Anger Self-Assesment

Please answer True or False to the following questions. If you do this behavior 80% of the time or more, your answer will be True. Otherwise, it will be False.

T F I've had problems on the job because of my temper.

T F People say that I fly off the handle easily.

T F I don't always show my anger, but when I do, look out.

T F I still get angry when I think of the bad things people did to me in the past.

T F I hate lines, and I especially hate waiting in line.

T F I often find myself engaged in heated arguments with the people who are close to me.

T F At times, I've felt angry enough to kill.

T F When someone says or does something that upsets me, I don't usually say anything at the time, but later I spend a lot of time thinking of cutting replies I could and should have made.

T F I find it very hard to forgive someone who has done me wrong.

T F I get angry with myself when I lose control of my emotions.

T F I get aggravated when people don't behave the way that they should.

T F If I get really upset about something, I have a tendency to feel sick later (experiencing weak spells, headaches, stomach aches, upset stomach or diarrhea).

T F When things don't go my way, I "lose it".

T F I am apt to take frustration so badly that I cannot put it out of my mind.

T F I've been so angry at times that I couldn't remember what I said or did.

T F Sometimes I feel so hurt and alone that I've thought about committing suicide.

T F After arguing with someone, I despise myself.

T F When riled, I often blurt out things I later regret saying.

T F Some people are afraid of my bad temper.

T F When I get angry, frustrated, or hurt, I comfort myself by eating or using alcohol or other drugs.

T F When someone hurts me, I want to get even.

T F I've become so angry at times that I've become physically violent, hitting other people or breaking things.

T F I sometimes lie awake at night thinking about the things that upset me during the day.

T F People I've trusted have often let me down, leaving me feeling angry or betrayed.

T F I'm an angry person. My temper has already caused lots of problems and I need help changing it.
